

revi DESIGN's Snow Removal Sidewalk Technicians & Removal Equipment Operators

revi DESIGN's Snow Removal Sidewalk Technicians are quality oriented, self-motivated employees working directly under the supervision of an area snow removal manager. The technician works as an important member of a team and assists in the day to day snow removal activities at every job site they visit. The technician is able to operate a variety of snow removal equipment and has a general working knowledge snow removal requirements.

revi DESIGN's Snow Removal Equipment (skid steer & Loader) Operators are quality oriented, self-motivated employees working directly under the supervision of a qualified area snow removal manager. The equipment operator works as an important member of a team and assists in the day to day snow removal activities at every job site they visit. The equipment operator is able to operate a variety of snow removal equipment and has a general working knowledge of most standard operating procedures for snow removal work.

Abilities for each position include:

- Comply with all company policies and safety procedures
- Perform services with a variety of snow removal equipment, including; shovels, blowers, loaders, skid steers or trucks, usually in inclement weather for long periods of time.
- Meet or exceed performance standards
- Be a team player and work well with others
- Ideal candidates are attentive, detail oriented, hardworking and motivated professionals with a strong contribution ethic.

Requirements:

- Must have drivers valid driver's license
- Reliable source of transportation to jobsite/work
- Ability to work in harsh conditions during winter season
- Availability to work long/odd hours, including weekends.
- Reliable contact information for on-call purposes
- Prior snow removal experience preferred

Winter work could lead to full time employment!

Apply today at www.revi-design.com